

PROGRAM
Councils of Deans Summit - 4 March 2011
New markets, new pedagogy, new student experience

8.30am Registration and coffee

9.00am Welcome and introduction
Prof. Jennifer Radbourne, President Australasian Council of Deans of Arts, Social Sciences and Humanities (DASSH)

9.15a m Keynote Speech: Caps off, standards on – what are the challenges for Deans in the changed Higher Education environment
Professor Jane den Hollander, Vice-Chancellor & President, Deakin University

9.40am Q&A
(Chair Prof. Jennifer Radbourne)

9.45am Faculty perspectives and implications of “new pedagogy, new markets and a new student experience.”
(Chair Prof. Susan Dodds, Board Member, DASSH)

9.45am The Business Perspective: Prof. Tim Brailsford, President, Australian Business Deans Council (ABDC)

9.55am The Medical Perspective: Prof. James Angus, President, Medical Deans Australia New Zealand Inc.

10.05am The Arts, Social Sciences and Humanities Perspective: Prof. John Simons, Treasurer, DASSH

10.15am Discussion
(Chair Prof. Majella Franzman, Board Member, DASSH)

10.40am Morning Tea

11.10am (Continued) Faculty perspectives and implications of “new markets, new pedagogy, new markets and a new student experience.”
(Chair Prof. John Germov, Secretary, DASSH)

11.10am The Engineering Perspective: Prof. John Beynon, President, Australian Council of Engineering Deans (ACED)

11.20am The Health Sciences Perspective: Prof. Ian Wronski, Chair, Australian Council of Pro Vice Chancellors and Deans of Health Sciences (CDHA)

11.30am The Education Perspective: Prof. Toni Downes, President, Australian Council of Deans of Education (ACDE)

11.40am The Government's agenda
Dr. Glenn Withers, Chief Executive Officer, Universities Australia
(Chair John Germov)

12.00pm Discussion
(Chair Prof. Majella Franzman)

12.20pm Summary
Prof. Krishna Sen, Vice President, DASSH

12.30pm Close

SPEAKER BIOGRAPHIES

Councils of Deans' Summit - 4 March 2011

New markets, new pedagogy, new student experience

KEYNOTE SPEAKER: Professor Jane den Hollander
Vice-Chancellor and President of Deakin University,

Professor Jane den Hollander commenced as Vice-Chancellor and President of Deakin University in July 2010. Prior to taking up this appointment, Professor den Hollander was Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Academic) at Curtin University of Technology. She also held the roles of Pro Vice-Chancellor Academic Services and General Manager Student and Staff Services at Curtin.

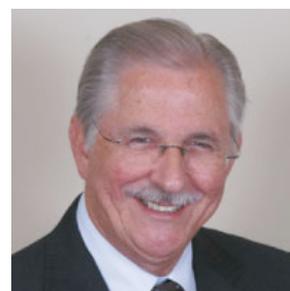

Currently a board member of the Australian Learning and Teaching Council, she was also previously a Board Member of Graduate Careers Australia. She sits on numerous national committees mostly concerned with higher education issues. She is one of two vice chancellors advising on the newly formed national regulatory and quality agency for higher education, the Tertiary Education Quality and Standards Agency (TEQSA).

Professor den Hollander holds a BSc (Honours) First Class in Zoology and a Master of Science degree from Wits University, Johannesburg. Her PhD is from the University of Wales, Cardiff. Her research was mainly in biochemistry, focussing on early stem cell work. For the past 15 years she has focussed on management, leadership and policy development in higher education, particularly in Australia.

GUEST SPEAKER: Dr. Glenn Withers AO
Chief Executive Officer, Universities Australia

Prior to becoming the Chief Executive Officer of Universities Australia, Dr Glenn Withers was Professor of Public Policy at the Australian National University, and a Professor at the Australia and New Zealand School of Government.

Dr Withers has extensive experience working in government including as Head of the Economic Planning Advisory Commission and Chair of the National Population Council, and as a consultant and adviser for business and governments, including the OECD and the Business Council of Australia.

Dr Withers is a Harvard PhD and was awarded an Order of Australia in 1992 for service to applied economics particularly in the areas of immigration and population research, including the development of the Australian immigration points system

Prof. Jennifer Radbourne
President, Australasian Council of Deans of Arts, Social Sciences and Humanities (DASSH)

Professor Radbourne is Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Education at Deakin University. Prior to this position, Professor Radbourne has held diverse roles in higher education including Assistant Dean of Teaching and Learning at the Queensland University of Technology, two years as director of an international program in Hong Kong, and director of an arts management program for 15 years.

Professor Radbourne has been the recipient of four ARC grants, the first investigating the impact of competition policy on performing arts organisations, the second mapping the creative industries in Queensland and developing value and supply chain models, the third involving performing arts audience reception analysis in performing arts centres in Queensland and the Northern Territory, and the fourth investigating the sustainability of the twenty first century orchestra.

Formerly, Professor Radbourne has been a board director of state, national and international arts organisations and is currently a member of the Scientific Committee of the International Association for the Management of Arts and Culture. She is on the Editorial Board of the International Journal of Arts Management (IJAM) and the Asia Pacific Journal of Arts Management.

Professor Radbourne is a Fellow of the Australian Institute of Management, and a graduate member of the Australian Institute of Company Directors.

Her current research interests include creative enterprise, cultural entrepreneurship, arts policy and governance, the arts audience experience and innovation and risk in artistic development.

Prof. Tim Brailsford MEd, PhD Monash, FCPA, FAIM, FFin
President, Australian Business Deans Council (ABDC)

Professor Tim Brailsford is Executive Dean of the Faculty of Business, Economics and Law at the University of Queensland.

Professor Brailsford is the Frank Finn Professor of Finance. Prior to this appointment, he was the Foundation Head and Dean of the UQ Business School, Dean of the Faculty of Economics and Commerce at the Australian National University, and has held senior academic positions at the University of Melbourne and Monash University. He holds a PhD, Master and Honours degrees and is an elected Fellow of the Australasian Institute of Banking & Finance, the Australian Institute of Management and CPA Australia.

Professor Brailsford's area of expertise is investments, corporate finance and financial management. He is co-author of the best-selling text Investments and has also published a number of other books, research monographs and over 50 research papers. His research has been recognised through various prestigious manuscript awards and he is an active editorial board member of several accounting and finance journals.

Professor Brailsford sits on several industry boards, is a regular consultant/advisor to industry and government and has served on a number of professional committees (including CPA Australia, past President of the Accounting and Finance Association of Australia and New Zealand, current Chair of AACSB International's Initial Accreditation Committee and Global Board Member of the European Foundation for Management Development.

Professor Brailsford was awarded a Prime Minister's Centenary Medal in 2003 for his contributions.

Prof. John Beynon

President, Australian Council of Engineering Deans (ACED)

Professor Beynon is Dean of the Faculty of Engineering & Industrial Sciences at Swinburne University of Technology.

Professor Beynon holds a BMet and a PhD from the University of Sheffield in the UK, and has previously worked in Germany, UK and USA. His areas of expertise and research include interaction of materials science (principally physical metallurgy) and applied mechanics to solve engineering problems, particularly in thermomechanical processing and structural integrity, using computer-based modelling, experiment and industrial input. His latest venture is as head of the Australian Advanced Manufacturing Research Centre, a new venture between Swinburne and The Boeing Company. Research outcomes have been disseminated through nearly 100 refereed journals and well over 100 other publications including a book on oxidation published in 2010.

He is a member of many professional organisations including being a Fellow of The Royal Academy of Engineering (UK), the Institution of Engineers Australia, the Institute of Materials, Minerals and Mining (UK) and a Graduate of the Australian Institute of Company Directors (GAICD). He is also a Chartered Engineer.

More speaker biographies to come when approved.